

Remembering the life of Grant . . .

Albert Grant May was born April 5, 1914 on the family farm in Clay Township of Renville County, one of five boys born to Samuel and Emma (Miller) May. He attended school at Clay Center rural school and graduated from Lansford High School where he was noted for his athletic ability in basketball and track.

Grant attended the Wahpeton State School of Science where he learned to become an expert welder. He taught welding classes for a brief period of time at the Bureau of Indian Affairs School in Belcourt.

On December 24, 1941, Grant married Norene Oberholtzer in Las Vegas, NV. They lived in Lynwood, Calif., where he worked for the Douglas Aircraft Corporation in Long Beach building planes for the World War II effort.

Grant and Norene moved back to North Dakota in 1946 and set up a farming operation 4 1/2 miles south of Mohall in Clay Township. Grant continued farming until the mid-1990s. His wife died November 12, 1997.

Grant was a member of the Mohall Church of the Nazarene, a long-time supporter of the Mid-America Nazarene College, and received the Distinguished Service Award from the Mohall Church of the Nazarene. In addition to his love of farming, he loved flying. In the late 1960s, Grant earned his pilots license and owned a plane for a period of time.
